

Accommodation Update

PLEASE READ THIS DOCUMENT CAREFULLY

This is an important update regarding accommodation bookings for the event in 2022.

Any accommodation venue that is NOT mentioned herein has automatically had reservations transferred to the corresponding date in 2022 and you do not need to do anything.

At those venues where you are required to re-book, please note that to provide adequate accommodation requirements for all, there must be a minimum of two people per room regardless of the room type (except singles) with the exception of the Duxton Hotel in Perth & the William Inglis Hotel at Warwick Farm.

If this minimum of two people per room is not met, this will be denying other crews a bed for the night. Hotel rooms MUST be prioritised for Crews over Service Crews who may need to camp. Venues will provide the Event Secretary with room lists and any service crew that are booked into rooms that are needed for Crews may be cancelled.

When making reservations, please do so by phone or email the venue with the booking reference "Perth-Sydney Marathon". If online bookings are attempted, you may find the P-SM Event dates unavailable, as block reservations have been made where at all venues at this stage.

If you do not have a current booking at any of the venues due to a lack of availability in 2021, then unfortunately the same will apply in 2022. The venues will update the Event Secretary with any cancellations, and we will be pleased to include any Crews requiring accommodation on the waitlist.
